

12th July 2019

What a lovely week we have had. The children have had the opportunity to visit Year 3 and hopefully this has laid any anxieties to rest. It has also made it very real that our time together is now disappearing fast. As I look back it is amazing how much we have fitted into our year and how much fun we have had. But, it's not over yet!

This week has been a little bit mixed up with transition days and moving our swimming time but normal learning has taken place.. In English this week we have been busy creating the page for our reports, writing a guide to year 2 for year 1 and we have looked at possessive apostrophes. In maths we have been looking at equivalent fractions and fractions of amounts. We have made a little bit more of our lighthouses, getting very sticky.

Dates for the Diary;- Wednesday 24th July – Last day of term.

Please may I ask for a named strong bag by Thursday 18th July. It needs to be strong as it has lots of things to carry home, a very full A4 lever arch file to name but one of them. I do aim to swim on the last Monday afternoon so please send in a swimming kit and we also aim to do PE on that last Wednesday afternoon too. Please remind your child to bring their sun hat as well as their rain coats. We've had some children this week that haven't brought their hat and you know what it is like in the UK, our weather reporting systems never seems to get it right. So please don't trust Alexa/Siri in the morning - send in both!

Have a lovely weekend and I look forward to seeing you all next week for our last full week.
